MAXEY FAMILY

NATHANIEL MAXEY was born in South Carolina. His father (Name unknown) was a Huguenot who fled from France to America for religious liberty. He was related to the Bondurants, Tories, Salees, Glovers and General Francis Marion. His children were:

THOMAS, Nathaniel, Samuel, Jacob, William, John, Elizabeth. The Maxey family emigrated from Virginia to Kentucky about 1800; all settled south of the Kentucky River except Thomas.

THOMAS MAXEY m. Lydia Chastian, dau of Raney Chastian, a Baptist preacher who lived to be 100 yrs old. He bequeathed to his five children 1,000 acres of land on Slate Creek, Bath County, Ky., four miles south of Owingsville. The share of Thomas and Lydia is now known as the Ann Oakley farm where they were buried, Lydia in 1805, Thomas in 1806.

Of the children of Nathaniel, nothing is known of them except William who was killed by Indians at Cumberland Gap on the way from Virginia to Kentucky, and Elizabeth, who was captured by Indians, married one and had a son. After her release, she married a Pruett who lived in Gerard Co., Ky. Her half-breed son lived with them and went by the name of Jack Pruett.

Children of Thomas and Lydia Maxey were:

Asa, b. Jan. 21, 1792, Fauquier Co., Va.; d. Aug. 29, 1879

Rhoda, b. 1794; d. 1840 of fever

Anna, b. July 10, 1797; d. July 8, 1848, paralysis

COLVIT, b. 1799 in Va.; d. 1842, typhoid fever

Thomas, b. 1802; d. 1865, paralysis

Thomasee Ann, b. 1807; d. July 18, 1879

After the deaths of Thomas and Lydia, their children were cared for by their uncles and aunts and oldest brother, Asa. Rhoda by her Aunt Rhoda; Anna by her uncle Martin Chastian; COLVIT by Joseph Bondurant; Thomas by John Jevidon, a son-in-law of Magdalene Carter.

In 1809, Asa went to John and James Allen's in Montgomery Co., Ky., and learned the wheel trade. In 1812 he volunteered under Capt. Pugh and served in the War of 1812. He was taken prisoner at the Battle of River Reason (Raisin?) Jan. 22, 1813. On Nov. 4, 1814

GENEALOGY OF NATHAN MARRS, 1790-1847,
OF VIRGINIA, KENTUCKY, ILLINOIS, AND INDIANA

Nathan and Elizabeth

Nathan Marrs, the principal subject of this genealogy, was born July 25, 1790, in Wythe County, Virginia, about the time the county was formed. When he was approximately five years old, his parents moved with their children to Shelby County, Kentucky.

The records of Shelby County show that in 1815 Nathan married Elizabeth Barbee (recorded as Eliza), the daughter of John Barbee, the marriage bond bearing the date November 7. The ceremony was performed nine days later.

A history of Crawford County, Illinois, reference (a), page 109, states that William Barbee, Thomas Young, and Nathan Marrs moved with their families from Kentucky to that Illinois county in 1818, and that Young and Marrs had married Barbee's sisters. Census records indicate that all the known children of Nathan and Elizabeth were born in Crawford County. Apparently Nathan earned his living by farming.

Land records indicate that Nathan and Elizabeth moved from Illinois to Vigo County, Indiana, about 1835. There they spent the rest of their lives. Cemetery records, reference (b), show the date of Nathan's birth as stated above, and the date of his death as April 30, 1847. Elizabeth was born June 6, 1791, and died April 6, 1851. They lie buried in Woodlawn Cemetery in Terre Haute.

The Children of Nathan and Elizabeth

Census records, other records, and information from various relatives, living and dead, lead to the conclusion that Nathan and Elizabeth had at least five children, born in Crawford County, as follows:

1. Martha (1817-1908); married Ethelbert Edwards, May 24, 1845. Probate records of Vigo County, Indiana, show that Martha's husband settled Nathan's estate.
2. Nancy (1821-1860), the third wife of William Shields. The marriage took place on December 28, 1840.
3. Frances (1827-1875); married (1) Leonard Crawford, June 19, 1845, and (2) Jesse Shields, brother of William Shields, on January 10, 1848.
4. John W. (1830-); married Louisa Hearn, February 3, 1856. He had a blacksmith and wagon shop at Dudley in Edgar County, Illinois, and then at Paris, the county seat.

5. Andrew B. (1932-1876); married Charlotte A. Shaw in Coles County, Illinois, and later moved to Sonoma County, California, where he owned a ranch.

Martha, Nancy, and Frances were the wives of farmers in or near Edgar County, and all three raised several children.

Nathan's Parents and their Family

Nathan's father was John Marr or Mares, who may have been born in Louisa County, Virginia. No record has been found of John's marriage to his wife Agnes, possibly because it took place in Augusta County during the period 1775-1785 for which no marriage records are available.

The land records of Montgomery County, Virginia, page 280 of Deed Book A and page 201 of Deed Book B, show that John Mares purchased 257 acres on Back Creek of New River, joining Alexander Mares, on April 7, 1778, and that these acres adjoining Alexander Mairs were sold by John and his wife Agnes on August 28, 1795. Other records, as will be noted later, sometimes use "Nancy" in referring to John's wife or their daughter Agnes.

Much of our information about the later activities of John and Alexander comes from a letter by John Reed Marrs, whose father was Alexander's son David and whose mother was John's daughter Rachel. This letter, dated September 6, 1899, is quoted in the Marrs family history by the "4 Sisters", reference (c), sections 756 to 779.1. One of the authors, Mrs. Henry Jameson, believes much of the information is based on a family Bible inherited by David, and then by John Reed Marrs.

The letter seems to indicate that Alexander and John were brothers; that Alexander raised a family of eleven children in what is now Wythe County, Virginia; and that John and his wife, referred to as "Nancy", moved to Shelby County, Kentucky, where they raised a family of thirteen children, as follows: Mary, Elizabeth, John, James, Stephen, Alexander, Nathan, Nancy, Rachel, Andrew, Allen, Sarah, and Margaret. The date shown for Nathan's birth is July 25, 1790, the same as on the headstone in the cemetery in Terre Haute.

The wills of John and Agnes are recorded in Jefferson County, Kentucky, where they are presumed to have died. See reference (d), volume 2, pages 53 and 55. These wills indicate that John Reed Marrs was confused about the married names of John's daughters Elizabeth and Sarah. The daughter who married William Naylor (or Nailor) is referred to as "Agnes" in John's will, and as "Nancy" in his wife's will. The names of the other daughters are shown in Agnes' will as Mary McClaslon, Elizabeth Ross, Rachel Marrs, and Sarah Sherley.

Ten of the children are named in each of the two wills. The three omitted are James, Stephen, and Margaret. John Reed Marrs' letter says it is claimed that James was a soldier under Gen A. Jackson at the battle of New Orleans. Stephen was killed at the battle of Tippecanoe. Margaret married David Wall, and may have died without issue.

The Military Services of Nathan's Father

During the American Revolution, Nathan's father, John Marr or Mairs, was a member of the militia in Montgomery County, Virginia, which county then included what is now Wythe County. The muster roll of the twelve companies serving from Montgomery County was found by Charles W. Crush while Clerk of the Circuit Court of that county. A photocopy of the original loose papers are bound in a book, Fincastle and Montgomery Counties, Revolutionary War Records, 1775-1783. Copies of this book, reference (e), are at the Montgomery County seat at Christiansburg and at the Virginia State Library at Richmond. Page 145 shows that John Mairs of Captain Joseph Cloyd's Company of Montgomery County Militia took the oath of allegiance on September 12, 1777. The services of Joseph Cloyd and the Montgomery County militia are mentioned in several places by Johnston, reference (f).

Nathan's Earlier Ancestors

In transcriptions of early records, Nathan's family name is shown in various ways; for example, Mair, Mairs, Mar, Mares, Marr, Marrs, Mars, and Mears. Some of the confusion may be due to difficulty in deciphering the longhand records. But much of it may be linguistic.

The name may be of French Huguenot origin. Some Huguenot families came directly to Virginia, while others emigrated from France to Scotland and northern Ireland before coming to America. A Captain Mars commanded one of the ships bringing early Huguenot settlers to Virginia; and there are several references to refugee Nicholas Mare with his wife and two children. See reference (g), pages 15, 24, 28, 47, 59. Imagine what might happen if an English-speaking person were verbally asked to record a French name spelled M-a-r-s, but pronounced much like the English word mare.

Nathan Marrs was doubtless a grandson of Hugh Mares or Mairs. Hugh is reported with eleven others in connection with payments to or from the estate of Col. James Patton in Louisa County in 1769. See reference (h), volume 1, page 110, to Will Book No. 4 of the Augusta County Court. Indications are that twelve or more families moved from Louisa County to Augusta County about 1765. In private correspondence, Mrs. Jameson says Hugh received a land grant of 400 acres in Augusta County in 1765, and John a grant of 90 acres in 1771. Possibly the latter year marks the time when Hugh's son John attained his majority. The source of Mrs. Jameson's information was not stated.

Hugh's land in Augusta County was located in the forks of the James River on a branch of Buffalo Creek. See reference (h), volume 3, pages 363 and 428. He may have owned land and possibly lived in that county at some time prior to 1765, however. A list of tax delinquents in 1750, reference (h), volume 2, page 415, includes "Hugh Maires, not found". There are also several early references to a Hugh Means.

On April 7, 1778, both Hugh and John purchased land on Back Creek of New River in Montgomery County, adjoining land owned by John's brother Alexander. The fact that this land was acquired from the Patton estate is an indication that one of the purchasers was the same Hugh having dealings with the Patton estate in Louisa County. Without doubt, he is the Hugh who, with Alexander, made application to the Court of Montgomery County to be reimbursed for beef supplied in September, 1780, to the militia under Major Cloyd, reference (i), page 777. There are also listings of Hugh Mars and Hugh Mairs as taking the oath of allegiance in 1777, reference (e); but it is not clear that either pertains to the father of Alexander and John, rather than a younger Hugh.

The signatures of Alexander and John on a document in connection with the settlement of an estate, and their appointments as officers in the Montgomery County Militia, seem to indicate the brothers had some schooling, and therefore spent their boyhood in Louisa or some other county east of the Blue Ridge Mountains. This is also indicated by the listing of Alexander as one of thirteen highland prisoners released to Louisa County in 1776, reference (j), volume 5, page 61. Alexander may have proceeded directly from Louisa to Montgomery County shortly after his release. Hugh and John may have joined him to lessen their exposure to raids by Indians, incited by the British, on settlements in Augusta County.

Hugh was doubtless related to Marrs families in Montgomery and other counties of Virginia and possibly Pennsylvania; but inferences about such relationships are on more tenuous grounds than those presented in the foregoing paragraphs.

The principal subject of this genealogy was probably a namesake of the Nathan Marrs that was a member of Captain John Ashby's Rangers. This Nathan was born about 1732, and may have been Hugh's brother or cousin. See reference (k), volume 2, page 143. Martha Hiden states that he was "almost certainly" a son of Christopher Marr of Frederick and Prince William counties. See reference (j), volume 26, page 289.

Christopher was acquainted with a family living in Montgomery County, reference (h), volume 2, page 86. His name and Abigail, the name of his wife and of a daughter, are repeated in the marriage records of Montgomery County. Other records of that county show the presence of Samuel and Hercules Marrs of about the same age as Hugh or somewhat younger. They may have been his brothers.

Other possibilities are John of Amherst County and Alexander of Orange County, which adjoins Louisa County. The close relationship between the Marrs families of Amherst and Orange counties is indicated by several intermarriages with the Rucker family. James Marr of Orange County married Betty Rucker of Amherst County. On January 5, 1760, Alexander married Sarah Rucker, possibly not his first wife. See reference (l), volume 2 and supplement, page 1, and reference (m), volume 4, page 254; also reference (n). Alexander died about 1795, reference (l), pages 71 and 83, volume 2. He may have been the Alexander Marr who proved in 1776 that he had come to Virginia from Great Britain and had not previously claimed the 50 acres of land allowed by the law of the colony. See reference (j), volume 18, page 193.

A letter from Mrs. Jameson states that a John P. Marrs, lawyer and judge in Wichita County, Texas, recorded in 1904 what his grandfather knew of the family. He said John Mars, a Scotsman, came to Virginia in 1760, and was the father of Hugh and of a son William who died in Logan County, Kentucky, 1822. In a later letter, Mrs. Jameson says this Hugh was the father of a daughter Catherine, born 1784, the year he moved to Georgia. The dates suggest he was younger by a generation than the Hugh who was the grandfather of our Nathan Marrs. Possibly he was a son of John of Amherst County.

Archibald Marrs, born October 30, 1769, is said to have come from Ireland to America with his parents and brothers Robert and William, the family settling on or near the Susquehanna River in Pennsylvania. He married (1) Deborah Guinn of Pennsylvania, and (2) Nancy McMullen in Montgomery County, Virginia. After his second marriage, Archibald appears to have lived a number of years in Giles County, Virginia. The names of his children by his first marriage included John, Andrew, Hugh, Samuel, and Alexander, which also occur among the brothers and cousins of our Nathan.

Thus, there is some evidence that Nathan's grandfather Hugh may have been one of several brothers who came to America from, or by way of, Scotland or Ireland, or both, but perhaps not all at one time. On the other hand, there is evidence suggesting that Hugh was related to, and possibly a son of, Christopher Marr, and therefore a grandson of John Marr of Stafford County who was in Virginia as early as 1688. About all we can say at present is that relationships between Hugh and several contemporary Marrs families are suggested, but not proved, by the evidence now available.

Ancestry of Nathan's Wife, Elizabeth

Elizabeth Barbee, who married Nathan Marrs in Shelby County, Kentucky, in 1815 was the daughter of John Barbee, Jr., of Culpeper County, Virginia, and Shelby County, Kentucky. Her mother is referred to as Martha Gaines by historians of the Gaines family, but as Patty Gaines by a genealogist of the Barbee family.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is not only a scientific one, but also a philosophical one. The scientific aspect of the problem is concerned with the question of how life arose from non-life. The philosophical aspect is concerned with the question of whether life is a necessary part of the universe or whether it is a mere accident.

In the second part of the paper, the author discusses the various theories of the origin of life. He shows that the most plausible theory is the theory of spontaneous generation. This theory holds that life arose from non-life through a series of chemical reactions. The author also discusses the theory of panspermia, which holds that life was brought to Earth from elsewhere in the universe.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for the origin of life. The author shows that the evidence is in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation. He also discusses the evidence for the theory of panspermia, and shows that it is not as strong as the evidence for spontaneous generation.

In the fourth part of the paper, the author discusses the implications of the origin of life for the philosophy of science. He shows that the origin of life is a problem that cannot be solved by the methods of the natural sciences alone. It is a problem that requires the use of philosophical methods as well.

The author concludes his paper by stating that the origin of life is a problem that is still open. He hopes that his discussion will help to clarify the problem and to show that it is a problem that is worthy of serious study.

The following Barbee lineage, with successive generations indicated by the superscripts 1, 2, 3, ..., is condensed from The Barbee Family, consisting of typewritten material prepared by Amelia Bronough (Mrs. H. L.) Benson, Box 955, Columbia, Missouri 65201.

No one seems to know how Ann Strother, wife of William Gaines³, is related to the rest of the Strother family. In a telephone conversation with Mrs. Clifford Finfgeld, Mr. Jackson D. Guerrant, 632 North Third Street, Danville, Kentucky, a descendant of Suzannah (Gaines) Helm, expressed some doubt that Ann's name was really Strother. On the other hand, it may be significant that William³ and Ann had a son named Strother⁴, and that the grandson James⁵ Barbee, who married Jane Sherrard, had a son named Strother. Another son, John, was mayor of Louisville, 1855.

While the Barbee and Gaines lineage shown here is doubtless authentic, further documentation seems desirable.

John³ Barbee, John, Jr.⁴, and William³ Gaines are all listed in the DAR Patriot Index. No effort has been made by me to verify the records of their military services.

Acknowledgments

The foregoing genealogy is based on information from a number of sources in addition to those already cited.

The identification of Martha (Marrrs) Edwards, Nancy (Marrrs) Shields, and Frances (Marrrs) Crawford Shields as sisters came primarily from my grandmother, Eliza Barbee (Shields) Jones, who was one of Nancy's daughters. Information supplied by her and her cousins with respect to themselves, their parents, and their descendants is included in a Shields family history published by me in 1919 and incorporated in a genealogy shown hereafter as reference (c). The descendants of Martha are shown in a family Bible in the possession of her grandson Earl Edwards, R. R. #1, Dennison, Illinois 62423. A copy of this Bible was made by the Vigo County Historical Society, 1411 South Sixth Street, Terre Haute, Indiana 47802. ✓

Information with respect to Nathan Marrrs, his wife Elizabeth (Barbee) Marrrs, his parents, and Elizabeth's ancestry, as well as additional information about the children of Nathan and Elizabeth, was obtained through the efforts of Lois (Mrs. Clifford) Finfgeld of Cooksville, Illinois 61730, with some help from professional genealogists. Her husband is a great-grandson of Frances (Marrrs) Crawford Shields.

Rea (Mrs. Henry) Jameson, Box 848, Albany, Texas 76430, graciously provided Mrs. Finfgeld with a photocopy of pages from the book shown as reference (c), now out of print. Other information as to possible early ancestry was included in letters to Mrs. Finfgeld and myself.

Helen Marrrs, Box 633, Smithville, Texas 78957, provided information about her ancestor Archibald Marrrs, and supplied data gleaned from her research at the Texas State Library in Austin. Allene (Mrs. Meriwether) Stuart, 20 Chatfield Road, Yonkers, New York 10708, who is almost certainly a descendant of Nathan's brother Shannon, provided information with respect to her lineage.

Lois Finfgeld noted the listing of John Marrrs and his wife Agnes _____ in the DAR Patriot Index. However, there were a number of men with names the same or similar to his that were living in Virginia during the period of the American Revolution, and the proof of military service offered by a DAR applicant seems very doubtful. The record of his service in the Virginia militia resulted from my finding a reference to the muster rolls in The Montgomery County Story, 1776-1957, compiled by Charles W. Crush.

Mrs. Finfgeld had some correspondence with Horbert Barbee, 305 South Fourth Street, Rocky Ford, Colorado 81067. He has a copy of the typewritten material by Amelia Bronough Benson, which he kindly let me see when I stopped to see him while driving through his city last August.

SOME MARRS GENEALOGY

The land records of Montgomery County, Virginia, page 280 of Deed Book A and page 201 of Deed Book B, show that John Marrs purchased 257 acres on Back Creek of New River, joining Alexander Marrs, on April 7, 1778; and that these acres adjoining Alexander Marrs were sold by John and his wife Agnes on August 28, 1795. Other records, as will be noted, sometimes use "Nancy" in referring to John's wife or their daughter Agnes.

Much of our information about John and Alexander comes from John Reed Marrs, whose father was Alexander's son David and whose mother was John's daughter Rachel. A letter by John Reed Marrs dated September 6, 1899, is quoted in a Marrs family history by the "Four Sisters", reference (a) below. This letter indicates that Alexander and John were brothers; that Alexander raised a family of eleven children in Wythe County, Virginia; and that John and his wife, referred to as Nancy, lived in Shelby County, Kentucky, where they raised a family of thirteen children, as follows: Mary, Elizabeth, John, James, Stephen, Alexander, Nathan, Nancy, Rachel, Andrew, Allen, Sarah, and Margaret.

The wills of John and Agnes, reference (b), indicate that John Reed Marrs was confused about the married names of daughters Elizabeth and Sarah. These wills name ten of the thirteen children, the other three presumably having passed away before the wills were drawn. The daughter who married William Nailor is referred to as Agnes in John's will, and as Nancy in his wife's will. The names of the other daughters are shown in Agnes' will as Mary McClallen, Elizabeth Ross, Rachel Marrs, and Sarah Sherley.

The three children omitted from the wills are James, Stephen, and Margaret. John Reed Marrs' letter says it is claimed that James was a soldier under Gen. A. Jackson at the battle of New Orleans. Stephen was killed at the battle of Tippecanoe. Margaret married David Wall, and may have left no children.

The marriage of Nathan Marrs to Elizabeth Barbee (shown as Eliza), daughter of John Barbee, on November 16, 1815, is recorded in Shelby County, Kentucky. A history of Crawford County, Illinois, reference (c), shows that William Barbee, and Thomas Young and Nathan Marrs who had married Barbee's sisters, moved with their families to that county from Kentucky in 1818. Census records, other records, and information from relatives still living lead to the conclusion that Nathan and Elizabeth had at least five children, born in Crawford County, as follows.

Nancy (1821-1860): m. William Shields 12-28-1840
Martha (1825-1908): m. Ethelbert Edwards 5-29-1845
Frances (ca. 1827-): m. (1) Leonard Crawford 6-19-1845
(2) Jesse Shields 1-10-1848
John W. (ca. 1831-): m. Lou _____ Andrew Barboe (ca. 1833-1876): m. Charlotte Shaw (Coles
Co., Ill; d. in Sonoma
Co., Calif.

At some time prior to the 1840 census, Nathan and Elizabeth, with their children, moved to Vigo County, Indiana. Cemetery records for that county, reference (d), show their dates of birth and death as follows.

Marrs, Nathan: b. July 25, 1790; d. Apr. 30, 1847.
m. Elizabeth: b. June 6, 1791; d. Apr. 6, 1851.

The date of birth shown for Nathan agrees with that shown in the John Reed Marrs letter. Probate records show that Nathan's estate was settled by his daughter Martha's husband, Ethelbert Edwards.

Most of the foregoing information was obtained by Lois (Mrs. Clifford) Finsfeld of Cooksville, Illinois, by correspondence with one of the "Four Sisters", professional genealogists, and others, and by research carried out herself. Her husband is a great-grandson of Jesse and Frances (Marra) Shields. I am a great-grandson of William and Nancy (Marra) Shields. See reference (c)

Brothers John F. and William S. Cruft were prominent pioneer merchants. John F. was born in Boston, Mass., in 1800, and came to Terre Haute in 1823. He was followed by his brother Wm.S. in 1824. Their first store was on the corner of Water and Ohio streets. In 1826 the store was moved to a two-story frame building with a red roof half way between Second and Third streets on Ohio street.

In 1827 the firm established a branch at Carlisle of which Wm.S. took charge. He was inclined to be literary in his tastes and in connection with W.D.Morgan established an academy at Carlisle, Ind.

In 1825 he returned to Terre Haute where he died soon after.

In 1828, John F. was Postmaster of Terre Haute until 1830 when Pres.Jackson was elected. In later years he engaged in pork-packing, was active in church affairs, and died in 1862. The Cruft pork-packing plant was on the river bank immediately above the Paddock & Co.'s plant.

INDIANA DEATHS

J. O. Leek, Former Druggist, Dies At 82

Terre Haute, Ind. (Spl.) —

James O. Leek, 82 years old, retired druggist, former Vigo County Treasurer and Terre Haute City Councilman, died yesterday at his home here.

Mr. Leek served in the City Council from 1918 to 1922 and as treasurer from 1926 to 1930.

He was a member of the Maple Avenue Christian Church, the Spanish American War Veterans, the Scottish Rite Valley of Indianapolis, and the Rosedale Masonic Lodge.

Surviving are the widow, Anna; a daughter, Mrs. Donald Isgrig of Terre Haute; a son, James F. Leek of Holley, N. Y.; and a grandson.

The body was taken to the Thomas Funeral Home.

FORMER COUNTY TREASURER DIES

James Oscar Leek, a former Vigo County treasurer and a retired druggist, died at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the residence, 905 Maple avenue. He was 82.

Leek served as Vigo County treasurer from 1926 until 1930. He was a member of the Maple Avenue Christian Church, the Spanish American War Veterans, the Scottish Rite of Indianapolis, and the Rosedale Masonic Lodge No. 259, F. & A. M.

Surviving are the wife, Anna K.; one daughter, Mrs. Donald Isgrig of Terre Haute; one son, James Ferris of Holley, N. Y., and one grandson.

The body was taken to the Thomas Funeral Home.

Veteran Druggist Dies Suddenly at His Home

CLAY C. LEEK.

CLAY LEEK, VETERAN DRUGGIST DROPS DEAD

Was Forty Years a Resident of City, and Soldier of the Civil War.

Succumbing to a sudden attack of heart trouble at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in his own door yard while starting to work for the day in his son's drug store, Clay C. Leek, 67 years old, veteran druggist and soldier, of 501 South Twelfth street, fell dead. He was a citizen of Terre Haute for more than forty years, owing the drug store at Twelfth and Poplar streets until five years ago, when he retired on account of failing health.

Mr. Leek leaves a wife and one son, James Oscar Leek, of 1837 North Twelfth and One-half street, who owns a drug store at Thirteenth street and Eighth avenue. The son is out of the city on business, and the father was to take his place in the store for the day.

Business, lodge and church circles held the interests of Mr. Leek during his long career in this city. He was an active member of the Poplar Street Baptist church and of the Masonic lodge.

As a soldier, Mr. Leek was proud of a record dating throughout the period of the civil war, serving in the 11th and 12th Indiana Volunteer regiments. He enlisted June 24, 1861, and served his last day in the 11th.

OBITUARY

LULU LEEK.

Died at the home of her parents, 504 south Twelfth street, Lulu, only daughter of Clay and Margaret Leek of malaria.

Lulu was born in Terre Haute, September 17, 1880 and at the time of her death was 18 years, 10 months and 7 days old.

From her earliest infancy she was an attendant at church and Sunday school. At the age of thirteen years she united with the Baptist church of this city, in which she was a faithful and loving worker until her life ended in death. She was especially taken with the Poplar Street Mission, where were centered her greatest pleasures in Christly religion.

Kindness, gentleness, and her thoughtfulness for the welfare of others were the attributes which made her lovable. By her beautiful character, purity in thought and deed, her patience in the cares of every day life, she won the high esteem of all with whom she came in contact. Never was greater fortitude and patience exhibited than in her last illness, when without a murmur she passed the long dreary weeks.

She deceased leaves a father, mother and brother, besides countless friends to mourn her loss. The family have the sincere and heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement, while with all it is felt that their loved one has entered her eternal life.

At 11:15 Miss Lulu Rose Leek, 18 years, occurred at the residence of her father, Mr. C. C. Leek, 504 South Twelfth street, yesterday at 2:15 o'clock. Miss Leek died with malarial fever for six days and had many friends who came to hear of her death.

DEATH NOTICE

CLAY C. Leek—Died at his residence, 504 South Twelfth street, Terre Haute, Ind., Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Funeral home, 504 S. Twelfth. Friends invited.

FUNERAL NOTICE

To members of Terre Haute Lodge No. 11, F. & A. M., are hereby notified to meet at the hall at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Thursday, Oct. 18, to attend the funeral of our late brother, Clay C. Leek, at 2 p. m. from residence, 504 S. Twelfth. Interment at Woodland Cemetery. J. E. HARRIS, Secretary.

My dear Mr. Brewster

I have just received your letter of the 10th and am glad to hear that you are well and that you are still interested in the subject of the birds of the West

I am sorry that I cannot write you more fully at present

but I will try to do so as soon as I have time

I am, very respectfully,

Yours truly,

Frank M. Chapman

1. The first part of the report describes the general situation of the country and the state of the economy.
It also mentions the main problems which
the government is facing.
The second part of the report deals with the social and cultural aspects of the country.
It describes the education system, the health services, and the cultural life of the people.

3. The third part of the report discusses the foreign relations of the country. It mentions the main international organizations to which the country belongs, and the role it plays in the world. It also describes the country's policy towards the United Nations and the other major powers.
The fourth part of the report deals with the future of the country.
It discusses the
main problems which
the country is likely to face in the future, and the measures which the government is taking to deal with them.

5. The fifth part of the report discusses the conclusion of the report.
It summarizes the main findings of the report, and makes some suggestions for further research.
The sixth part of the report discusses the appendix. It contains a list of the sources used in the report, and a list of the names of the people who have contributed to the report.

The Department of Chemistry at the University of Chicago is one of the leading centers for research in chemistry in the United States. It is home to many of the world's leading chemists, and its graduates are among the most highly trained and talented in the field. The department is organized into several divisions, each with its own focus and expertise. These include the Division of Inorganic Chemistry, the Division of Organic Chemistry, the Division of Physical Chemistry, and the Division of Analytical Chemistry. Each division is headed by a distinguished professor, and its members are engaged in a wide range of research projects. The department also has a strong tradition of teaching, and its faculty members are dedicated to providing their students with the best possible education. The University of Chicago is a world-renowned institution, and the Department of Chemistry is proud to be a part of it. We are committed to excellence in research, teaching, and service, and we are confident that our graduates will go on to make significant contributions to the field of chemistry.
